- [ ] Match the camera to the spot. The S1 or E50 for a driveway or yard, the S4 for the front door, and the E10 if you rent and can't drill.
- [ ] Check the price and stock on eufy's Australian store. The S1 (A$799.95) and S4 (A$499.95) showed "Notify Me" on 16 November; the E50 ships from 18 November.
- [ ] Buy a microSD card if you won't use a base station. The S1 takes up to 128 GB, and no card is included.
- [ ] Check your smart home app. The S1 works with Google Home; Apple Home needs eufy's HomeBase S380.
- [ ] Set detection and privacy zones before you turn on the siren and tracking light. Cover only your own property and block out neighbours' windows.
- [ ] Switch on eufy's Advanced Encryption. It's an optional setting that adds end-to-end encryption, so footage is locked with a password only you hold.
