- ☐ Check you're on iOS 27 or iPadOS 27. The setting isn't in earlier versions, so install the update first.
 - ☐ Turn on Impersonation Risk Detection. Settings, Privacy & Security, Impersonation Risk Detection, then switch on Share with App Developers.
 - ☐ Allow 24 hours. Changes to the setting can take up to a day to take effect, so do it now rather than when you need it.
 - ☐ Look at Recent Activity now and then. It shows which apps have asked for a risk check and why.
 - ☐ Treat any request to switch it off as a red flag. Apple says someone telling you to turn it off may be scamming you.
